

Six Days of Giveaways!! Day 4.

Y'all know that I'm all about being as "green" as I can. I still have a way to go, but at least we're on the right track. I also love books, and while I don't think I've even started a new book since having the Beast, I still love to get my children books. Oh, and they love them...and I really love children's books that educational. Here's where my next giveaway comes in!

I'm Turning Green is a wonderful children's book full of ways to teach your kids how to, well, be green! It's full of ideas that are easy enough for them to do so they'll actually be proud they're making a difference! Before you know it, your 3 year old will be reminding you to turn off the lights when you leave a room, and to turn off the faucet while brushing your teeth!

Not only does thelittleenvironmentalist.com talk the talk, but they walk the walk! Here's how the actual book itself is made:

The Little Environmentalists proudly print their books using 100% recycled paper that is 100% post-consumer waste and chlorine free, along with environmentally friendly inks. Environmentally friendly printing preserves forests and habitats, keeps toxic chemicals out of the environment and generates fewer greenhouse gases. It has been estimated that producing a ton of paper using 100% post-consumer copy paper rather than virgin pulp saves about 24 large trees, 4000 kilowatt hours of electricity, 60 pounds of air pollution and 7000 gallons of water.

Holy Greenness!! You can purchase I'm Turning Green at thelittleenvironmentalist.com [$7.95] or amazon.com
